THE MOVE

Slower default -> Lower register -> More resonance -> Consistent — not turned on

START HERE

Before entering your next conversation, take one slow breath and let your voice settle a half-tone lower than where you started. Use that as your opening register.

SAY THIS

Warm Vocal Openers	"Let me come back to that in a moment."
Recovery to Warm	"Let me slow that down."
Settled Meeting Open...	"Before we get into the detail, let me set out where things stand."
Firm Content, Warm...	"The answer is no, and I want to say it without any edge."
Holding the Baseline	"I am going to keep my voice where it is and answer the substance."

AVOID

- In situations where artificial warmth would read as patronising or performative.
- When speed and information density are paramount and vocal quality is secondary.
- When your natural energy is genuinely flat — forced warmth that does not match your affect creates incongruence.

REMEMBER

Set the register before the first word, not during the third sentence.
