

TC009: Anti-Boomerasking Discipline

Combined TC001-grade field card

- 1

Minimum move
Ask one real follow-up or reflect before sharing your related story.
- 2

Core formula
Ask -> listen -> follow-up or reflect -> optional brief share -> return.
- 3

Why it works
Anti-boomerasking makes you seem more genuinely interested, less self-focused, and easier to trust. It protects conversational momentum because the other person feels their answer actually mattered. It also makes your later self-disclosure land better because it feels like connection, not hijacking.
- 4

How to do it
Step 1: Notice the launchpad urge
- 5

Calibrate
They keep expanding their story.
- 6

Recover / neighbour
"I just turned that back to me. Sorry - go on." Neighbouring-technique distinction for TC009 Anti-Boomerasking Discipline: keep this as a specific behavioural move, not a generic 'good communication' substitute.
