

TwoCard_Combined

Best for: - When the person is mid-story and does not need a question - When a small signal prevents awkward silence without steering - When you want to keep their thread central Avoid when: - When the person has asked a direct question - When encouragement would pressure disclosure - When you are not actually listening 1. Write five lines where Minimal Encouragers might help. 2. Create a weak, better and best response. 3. Reduce your best response by 30 percent. 4. Add one recovery phrase. 5. Use it once in a low-stakes conversation and stop.