THE MOVE

Base: "I agree with [true part]. Where I see it differently is [specific disagreement].
My reason is [brief reason]. I'd suggest [next step]." -> Short: "I agree with the goal. I disagree with the method." -> Boundary: "I understand why that feels ?

START HERE

Before you say "I disagree," name one real point of agreement in a single sentence.

SAY THIS

Quick openers	"I agree with the aim. I differ on the route."
Social and everyday	"I agree that it felt frustrating. I see the choice itself a little differently."
Work and meetings	"I agree with the objective. I don't agree that this plan is the safest route to it."
Clear dissent with a...	"I agree the goal is right. Where I differ is shipping without review — I'd suggest a 30-minute blocker-only pass."
Pressure and bounda...	"I understand the urgency. I'm not willing to skip the check that protects everyone."
Repair and reset	"That sounded like a token yes before a no. Let me say the agreement more clearly."

AVOID

- The agreement would be false — you don't actually accept any part.
- A boundary has already been crossed, or someone is unsafe.
- The other person is using bad-faith pressure.

REMEMBER

Say the agreement as if it matters, then the disagreement as if it's bounded.
