It sounds really frustrating. Tell me more about what has been hardest about it.

SAY THIS

Quick openers	"That sounds really rough."
Naming the feeling	"It sounds like this has been really frustrating."
Understanding & res...	"I can see why that would feel like a lot."
Support & explore	"I can help you work through the next step."
At work	"I can see this has created pressure for you. Let me understand the main concern before we decide the next step."
Softening & correcting	"I may have named that wrong. What is the better word for it?"

AVOID

- Immediate physical safety or an emergency comes first
- The person has asked for a direct factual answer
- The emotion label would be speculative or intrusive

REMEMBER

Use the one letter the moment is asking for. Don't pour the whole acronym into the room.
