Behaviour feedback that stays specific and actionable

Core formula

Context -> Observation -> Impact -> Next step

Minimum viable move

In [context], I noticed [behaviour]. The impact was [effect]. Next time, can we [specific next step]?

Field rule

Name the moment, not the person. Keep feedback behavioural, specific and repairable.

Calibration

Continue when the next behaviour is clear. Adjust if they hear judgement. Stop if the moment becomes unsafe, humiliating or formal.

Use for clarity and repair - not pressure, shame or character judgement.
