LEAP front card

The four moves that lower threat

1. Listen
Ask one clean question and reflect their side before responding.

2. Empathize
Name the pressure, fear, frustration, wish, or need that makes their stance understandable.

3. Agree
Find one honest point: value, goal, concern, boundary, emotion, or shared interest.

4. Partner
Offer one small choice-preserving next step: "What would feel workable?"

Calibration, repair and boundaries

Continue
They correct specifics, soften tone, add details, or negotiate conditions.

Adjust
They say you are twisting words, become more rigid, or treat the next step as a trap.

Recover
"I pushed too fast. Let me go back and understand first."

Boundary
"I want your choice involved, and I also cannot ignore immediate safety."
