

THE MOVE

Permission or context + clean win + honest feeling + proportionate context + release. -> Can I share a win? I got the fellowship. I am really pleased because it was a long process. -> Good news: the launch landed well. I am proud of the tea...

START HERE

I have a win to share: [specific win]. I am pleased about it.

SAY THIS

Quick openers	"I have a win to share: I got the offer."
With people close to...	"I wanted to tell you directly: I got accepted. I am really happy about it."
Work and updates	"The project landed well with the client. I am glad the work was useful."
Answering and advocating	"Yes, it went well. I am proud of the result, and I am still taking in what it means."
Cleaning it up mid-share	"That sounded more like a humblebrag than I intended. Cleaner version: I am happy about it."
Returning the floor	"Thanks for letting me share that. What has been going well on your side?"

AVOID

- Someone else is currently sharing vulnerable news or their own win
- The win is irrelevant to the relationship or the situation
- The listener is distressed, hurried, or not really available

REMEMBER

Do not smuggle a win in as a problem.
