

Core move

Clean win-sharing without status theatre

Perception

- Notice
I am making good news sound like a problem.
- Risk
The listener has to decode my hidden request for admiration.

Move

- Convert
Strip the complaint cover and name the win.
- Proportion
Add one honest feeling or context line.

Phrase

- Minimum viable
I have a win to share: [win]. I am pleased about it.
- Release
Thanks for letting me share that.

Front-card rule

If the sentence only works when the listener praises you back, clean it before saying it.

Calibration and recovery

Continue, shorten, stop, or repair

Continue

- Cue
They ask concrete follow-up questions.
- Move
Give one more factual or meaning line.

Shorten or stop

- Cue
They go polite, thin, hurried, or crowded.
- Move
Thank them and return conversational space.

Recover

- Repair
That sounded like a humblebrag.
- Restate
Cleaner version: I am happy about it and wanted to share.

Back-card rule

Do not defend the miss. Name it once, restate cleanly if useful, then stop expanding.
