

Impact High · Difficulty Hard · Misuse risk The main failure mode is validating the inaccurate claim instead of the understanding

THE MOVE

Name what makes sense -> avoid endorsing the claim -> state your boundary or view separately -> invite the next step. -> Short form: notice -> name or respond -> invite -> calibrate -> release. -> "I can see why that landed that way" — even ?

START HERE

Say "I can see why that landed that way," or "That makes sense as a concern, even if I see the decision differently."

SAY THIS

Quick acknowledgement... "I can see why."

Warm validation "I can see why that felt unfair."

Work & meetings "That is a reasonable concern to raise."

Name it, then state y... "I can see why that felt dismissive. I don't think that was the intent."

De-escalation & repair "I don't mean I agree with every part; I mean I understand why it felt that way."

Under pressure "I'm not going to pretend I agree, but I do understand why you're angry."

AVOID

- Validation would imply agreement with unsafe behaviour
- You cannot yet identify what is genuinely understandable
- The person needs a clear limit first, not acknowledgement

REMEMBER

Validate the experience; keep the boundary.
