

Impact Low · Difficulty Medium · Misuse risk The move fails when brevity becomes evasive, cold or under-informative - when

THE MOVE

Point -> one reason -> optional example -> pause or check. -> My view is X. The main reason is Y. [pause] -> Short version: X. The detail is Y if useful. -> I'd do X, mainly because Y. Happy to unpack it if helpful. -> I can't do X. I can do Y. [stop] -...

START HERE

Make the point once, give one reason, then pause.

SAY THIS

Concise opinions	"My view is X, mainly because Y."
Check instead of con...	"Does that answer the question?"
Boundaries / saying no	"I can't do that, but I can do this."
Work / leadership	"Bottom line: I recommend X."
Social / dating	"Simple answer: yes."
Conflict / disagreement	"The part I disagree with is X."

AVOID

- The person is genuinely confused and needs more explanation
- The topic is high stakes and detail is required for safety or fairness
- You are using brevity to avoid accountability

REMEMBER

Stop one sentence early.