

TwoCard_Combined

Best for: - When pressure makes you rush - When your voice is becoming sharp or defensive - When a slower first sentence will reduce escalation Avoid when: - When urgent safety action is required - When slowdown is used to evade accountability - When the answer is already clear and direct 1. Write five lines where Slow Down Under Pressure might help. 2. Create a weak, better and best response. 3. Reduce your best response by 30 percent. 4. Add one recovery phrase. 5. Use it once in a low-stakes conversation and stop.