

Impact Low · Difficulty Medium · Misuse risk Jumping around too much, reopening stale topics, or using threading to control

THE MOVE

Notice an earlier thread -> ask permission to return -> name the thread -> ask one clean follow-up -> release if energy is low. -> Can I come back to something you said earlier about that part? -> Earlier you mentioned the timing. Is that still the ?

START HERE

Can I come back to something you said earlier about that part?

SAY THIS

Quick loop-backs	"Can we go back to something for a second?"
Warm returns	"You said something earlier that has stayed with me."
Meetings & decisions	"Can I come back to the part about your team for a second?"
Naming the threads	"There were two threads there — the workload and the uncertainty. Which one matters more?"
Offer an exit	"We can stay with that or move on — your call."
Emotional or tense th...	"I may be reading this wrong, but that seems like the key thread."

AVOID

- The person has clearly closed the topic.
- Returning to the thread would feel like a trap or a gotcha.
- The current topic is urgent and should not be interrupted.

REMEMBER

Continuity, not interruption.