

One-screen message

Make the whole digital message usable without scrolling.

Purpose Name the message job in line one: quick ask, update, decision needed, no action needed.	Context Give only the context the reader needs to act safely. Put deeper detail below the line.	Ask Make the exact action, decision or confirmation visible without scrolling.
Reply path Tell them how to answer quickly: yes/no, A/B, approve/edit/hold, or one sentence.	Timing Use a real decision point. Avoid fake urgency and pressure.	Care Add warmth or autonomy when the message affects effort, identity, risk or relationship.

Core formula

Purpose -> context -> ask -> reply path -> deadline

Field test: could a reasonable reader answer correctly from the first screen?

Safety: use this for clarity, ease and respect - not to rush, hide complexity, corner, sell, seduce or override autonomy.
